College should feel connected. For most students, it doesn't.

1 in 3

college students report feeling isolated, left out, or lacking companionship.

PR NEWSWIRE

64.7 %

of college students report feeling lonely.

HAIDT · THE ANXIOUS GENERATION

+134 %

rise in anxiety among 18–25 year olds since 2010.

ACHA-NCHA II

Students don't lack people around them. They lack motivation to make that first connection.

You In? makes your event the reason.

Hosts run the experience, students compete in real time, leaderboards drive participation, and the awkward first step disappears.

FOR STUDENTS

Show up, play, compete.

Gamified icebreaking. Joining is one tap. Earning points is the conversation starter.

FOR ORGANIZATIONS

Live event handling.

Dashboard for challenges, scoring, moderation, so hosts run the night without running around.

FOR EVERYONE

An event made memorable.

Turns the room from passive attendance into shared, competitive momentum.

How it works.

HOST FLOW

Run the event from one dashboard.

- 1 Create event
- 2 Moderate challenges
- 3 Go live
- 4 Set points
- 5 Watch the leaderboard

PLAYER FLOW

Show up. Scan. Compete.

- 1 Join via QR or code
- 2 Browse challenges
- 3 Claim
- 4 Complete challenges
- 5 Climb the leaderboard

Safety Two-layer moderation pipeline: instant keyword filter + async LLM content review, with database-level role enforcement.

Actively pursuing our first paying customers

Pre-revenue, with a launched product and a validated event playbook.

Market sizing.

Bottom-up: incremental value per user per event, scoped to the wedge we can win.

Purdue is the wedge, not the market: Purdue → Big Ten → 20 campuses → national.

Where we compete.

THE OPEN QUADRANT

High locality. High structure.
Nobody else is here.

Prediction markets compete on stakes. Social apps compete on broadcast.

We compete on the room you're already in.

Three tiers. One conversion path.
